Indian casino may be slowed by challenge to tribal leadership

• Bureau of Indian Affairs asks federal court to delay land decision until Upper Lake Pomo tribal issues are sorted out

A proposed Indian gaming casino and hotel are apparently still spinning their gears in West Sacramento, as the project awaits government approval that would allow it to turn land near I-80 and Reed Avenue into sovereign territory. The tribe now faces a challenge to its leadership.

Leaders of the Upper Lake Pomo Indians have asked the federal government for a determination that they are entitled to acquire new tribal land. But a West Sacramento woman and others claiming to be tribe members have challenged the authority of those leaders.

A July 12 statement from a Sacramento-based Bureau of Indian Affairs representative asked the U.S. District Court in San Francisco to hold off on the issue until the B.I.A. settles the tribal dispute.

In that statement to the court, B.I.A. officer Carmen Facio reported that a group led by West Sacramentan Phyllis Harden "claims to be the true members of the tribe" and challenges the legitimacy of the tribe's current proposed constitution.

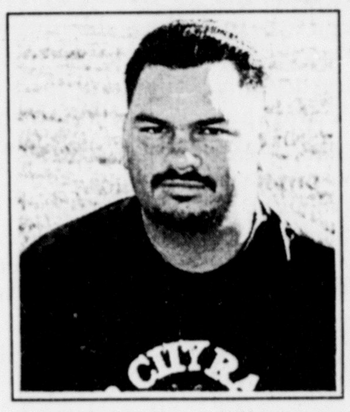

Facio declined to answer questions about the tribal dispute and referred all questions to the U.S. Attorney's office, which did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Several attempts to reach Harden were unsuccessful.

Interim tribal chairperson Carmella Icay-Johnson, who has helped spearhead the casino proposal, did not immediately respond to a phone message.

New coach tackles RCHS football program

By Oliva De Mars

COACH BRIAN WATKINS

After serving as River City High School's Assistant Principal last year, Brian Watkins has taken the position as head varsity football coach at the high school this year. He recently gave the following question and answer interview to Oliva De Mars.

Q: After serving as an assistant principal last year, what prompted your return to coaching?

A: Before I answer that, I would like to extend my gratitude to former coach Dennis McIntyre for his five years of service. He went out of his way to make the transition a smooth one and I wish him the best in his new position with the Elk Grove Unified School District. In response to your question, I returned because I felt I had some unfinished business both in the classroom and on the field. I truly missed teaching and coaching and felt a burning desire to help this program return to the top. This school has a rich tradition of hard-nosed football. Ex-River City coach Chris Baker has agreed to return and assist with implementing this system. In many respects, we are going back to the future.

Q: Can you tell us a little bit about your previous coaching experience and the type of philosophy you plan to implement at River City?

A: Sure. I've been coaching in various capacities over the last 14 years. A good portion of that time has been spent at RC as a defensive coordinator. With regard to philosophy, I've already touched on it

Oct. 5 parade will hook up with new 'Neighbors Fair'

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Something old, something new.

West Sacramento will see something a little different next month at the time of the annual Community Day Parade.

A group of locals is planning a "Neighbors Fair" at River Walk Park in conjunction with the Oct. 5 parade. And the parade itself will feature a different route, starting on Merkley Ave. "in the heart of West Sacramento's downtown" and working its way to the River Walk Park to meet up with the first annual Neighbors Fair.

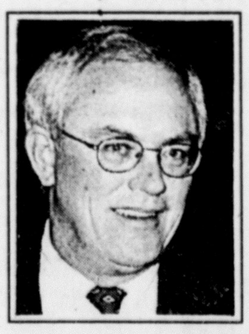

The parade will also be a "sanctioned" event this year, meaning that participants can earn points towards participation in other parades. There will be a larger judging staff and more entries.

"We're trying to bring it back to its former stature," said Kay Fenrich, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce. "We're trying to get the community more involved and making it a true community day parade. The new route will put it through the heart of the downtown district."

Wenrich said it's time for the annual parade to make a comeback.

"This is the 27th year of the parade," she commented. "My understanding is that when it originated, it was done so the community would have a chance to celebrate its uniqueness and diversity. Between the parade and the Neighbors Fair, that's the spirit we want to bring back."

The theme of the parade will be "celebrating the American dream," and grand marshal will be Joe Goeden, who was city manager of West Sacramento (recently retired) for most of the young city's history.

GOEDEN: Grand Marshal

Parade entries should be in to the Chamber of Commerce by Sept. 20, she added. Interested people may call 371-7042.

The "Neighbors Fair" is a far newer tradition -- if a first-time event can yet be called a tradition.

"This is an opportunity for the community to celebrate itself," explained Denice Edgar, the chamber's president. "The Neighbors Fair is done in the spirit of how it is done in so many communities in the central valley. We'll have entertainment, activities for kids, and cultural and craft exhibits. There will be food booths. There will be two main stages wth regional talent. There'll be Sikh dancing and Russian dancing interspersed with local dance troupes. Rotary and the (Volunteers in Policing) will be there fingerprinting kids."

Edgar is crossing her fingers for the new event's success. She reports that the Neighbors Fair is being chaired by Mark Johannessen, and will get off the ground largely thanks to sponsorship by Ramco Enterprises and K.O.O. Construction.

Skateboard park site: revisited due to noise issue

One West Sacramento woman is concerned that noise from a proposed skateboard park will echo off of concrete freeway walls and trouble neighbors near the project. The city's parks director has agreed to research the issue.

"We have been looking for a suitable site for a year," said parks director Don Schatzel. "We've talked to the neighbors of Sam Combs Park and they said 'no.' One of the suggested sites was Westacre playfield on Evergreen Ave., on school district land that the city maintains. We just met with some of the neighbors there, and we've submitted a grant proposal for that facility."

One neighbor, Cindy Valencia of Evergreen Ave., said that she is concerned about noise from the skateboarders and their skating. But she admits she may be alone in her concern.

"When I first heard the news, I thought this was nice of them," she related. "Then some kids were skating during the week when there were some activities going on in the park. I noticed the noise was echoing back and forth, back and forth."

She voiced her concerns at a neighborhood meeting with parks staff.

"I've never been to a community meeting before on something like this, but I made sure to go," said Valencia. "I got the feeling that it had already been planned, and it wasn't optional."

Schatzel said his department is trying to investigate the noise issue more deeply now.

"There are only five or six houses that actually abut the park," he said. "We were surprised she said the noise reverberates off of the wall. We're looking into that aspect of the park more closely. This is not a new issue, but it did surprise us in that particular area. One of the reasons we liked the Westacre area was because of the freeway noise," he said -- which would cover skateboard noise.

> 'When I first heard the news, I thought this was nice of them.'
> CINDY VALENCIA

Schatzel said his department plans to use part of a $128,000 grant to pay for the modular skateboard park, which could be moved to a more permanent site later.

"We (also) have $50,000 in the city's capital improvements budget for this, and it is to be matched in some way by another $50,000 from the skateboarders." That match could come from fund raisers, user fees or other revenue, he added.

City make take lid off ballot measure campaign contributions

The West Sacramento City Council will be asked tonight to lift campaign contribution limits on local ballot measures.

A campaign reform ordinance has limited contributions to ballot measure campaigns to $250 per person. But city hall reports that a citizen has provided evidence that such a limitation violates free speech law.

"The City Attorney reviewed the applicable case law and determined that a Supreme Court decision did conclude that the expenditure limitations for ballot measures were an infringement of free speech, and therefore unconstitutional," said acting city manager Carol Richardson in a report to the council.

She advises the council to approve, by at least a four-fifths vote, an "urgency ordinance" removing the restriction.

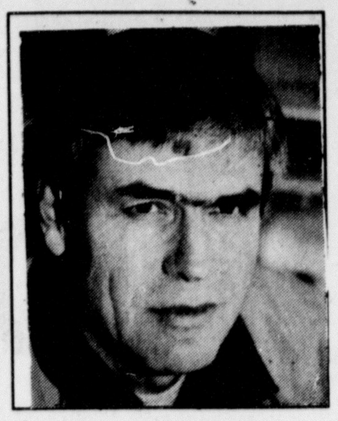

A system of limitations on contributions to the campaigns of those running for local office is not set for change, although one candidate has challenged the legitimacy of those.

The city faces two local issues on the November ballot. One pair of initiatives asks the public to approve a city-wide sales tax increase, and asks the public to advise how to spend that revenue. A second initiative seeks to restrict future industrial development in West Sacramento.

Being 'mechanically challenged' is no fun at all

Note: Daryl is on vacation this week. Below is a favorite column of his which first appeared in the News-Ledger in the summer of 1994.

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

A few months ago, I decided to drop off one of my favorite books for a friend to read. As I pulled into her driveway, I couldn't help but notice that the house itself was being guarded by a huge, obviously over-protective dog who looked to be a mix between a skinny-legged Great Dane and a dull-colored Palomino pony. As the barking animal, who appeared to be foaming from the mouth (although I later learned he more or less always looks that way) began to lope towards my truck, I put on my brakes and quickly checked to make sure my window was tightly rolled up.

"Nice little doggie," I said, cracking the window just enough to make sure his massive head couldn't get inside the car. "Now go away before I run over you," I added under my breath.

The dog, who I'll call Fang, growled and barked even louder, energetically slimed the side of my just washed and waxed truck, and then decided to turn his attention to my front left tire. I rolled my window down just far enough to see exactly what he was up to, and sure enough, the crazy thing seemed to be intent on eating my tire. Positive that no dog, not even one the size of Fang, could actually harm a Firestone 225/70R14 truck tire, I put the car in gear and carefully began to make my way to where another vehicle was parked.

That's actually kind of cute, I thought to myself as I looked out my window and watched Fang, who apparently wasn't very bright, continue to try to take a bite out of my slowly rolling tire.

"Stop that!" yelled my friend at her dog as she stepped off her porch and began to make her way towards my truck. "He's never done that before," she assured me as she grabbed a handful of Fang's ample neck skin and yanked him away from my poor tire. "Now sit and behave yourself," she ordered the suddenly meek dog. "Daryl is going to think you don't have any manners at all."

"Oh, he didn't hurt anything," I said as I waved hello and worked up the courage to get out of the truck."

"What's that funny hissing noise I hear?" she suddenly asked me, looking all around.

We both strained our ears for a few seconds and then at the exact same moment realized that what we were hearing was the unmistakable whistling sound of air escaping from a punctured tire.

"I'm so sorry," apologized my friend as we both bent down and examined the half-dozen or so deep puncture wounds in my tire. "I'll call Triple A. They can be out here in about twenty minutes."

"Are you kidding?" I said with a manly chuckle. "No problem! I can fix it."

"But everybody is always telling me how, well, you know, how you're not very mechanical."

"Oh, everyone really exaggerates all that stuff," I assured her, waving away her concerns with my hand. "Any guy can fix a tire."

About thirty minutes later, after I had, in the following order, finally found the right key to open the lock on my spare tire; figured out how to make the jack that came with the truck actually work; given myself a hernia loosening the lug nuts; unsuccessfully attempted to jack up my front door instead of the axle connected to my tire; and silently cussed out the idiots in Detroit who decided to hide and secure spare tires underneath trucks in such a way that no mortal man can get them out, my friend bent down next to me and very politely asked, "Do you happen to have a driver's manual?"

"It's in the glove box," I finally said as Fang plopped down beside me on the dusty driveway and began drooling all over my shoes.

"Okay," said my friend cheerfully, "here it is, page 190 -- how to change your Ford Ranger tire."

"What's it say?" I mumbled as I swallowed my pride and attempted to swat away another dozen or so killer mosquitoes who had taken up residence on my perspiring body.

"This is going to be real easy," she announced with a confident smile. "The steps are numbered, so here we go, step one, finding your Ford Ranger spare tire."

"I've done that," I snapped.

"Okay, step two. Remove bolt with lug wrench, then swing hinge away and lower the channel, remove retaining bolt by inserting the lug wrench through the top of the bolt and turning. Then to replace the tire, reverse procedure and install tire with the valve stem pointed down. Tighten the retaining bolt snugly and test for tire movement by pressing or kicking. Now, have you done any of that yet?"

"Yeah, I've done the kicking part," I said.

"Here," she said, obviously taking pity on me and lowering her voice as she often does when she's talking to one of her children, "I think I know what they're talking about. I tell you what, why don't you read from the manual, which is, you know, really the important part anyway, and let me get down under there for awhile and see if I can get the tire out?"

Another twenty or so humiliating minutes later, with my tire finally fixed and Fang in tow, I stepped back into my truck, knowing full-well that I'd still be sprawled out on the pavement if it hadn't been for my friend's help. "Thanks for dropping off the book," she said, forcing back a smile by putting a grease-covered hand over her mouth.

"Real funny," I said as the laughter she had been choking down for almost an hour finally exploded. "And don't you dare tell anyone about this!" I yelled after her as she and Fang, who seemed to be having a pretty good doggie-chuckle himself, turned and raced back towards the house.

a little bit. I believe that defense, ball-control, field position and special teams provide our team with the best chance to be competitive. Offensively, we will run the T-bone, a combination of tight-T and wishbone plays, We will emphasize ball control and a power running game. On defense, we will work from a 5-2 alignment and focus on gang tackling and physicality. The cornerstone of our program will be conditioning. We invest nearly two hours per day in this area. We want to instill a sense of toughness that will earn the respect of our opponents.

Q: What can you tell us about your staff?

A: Without question, I feel this is one of our biggest strengths. I've been fortunate to assemble a staff that shares my vision and philosophy. Most are local talents who have years of coaching experience. As I alluded to earlier, Chris Baker will serve as offensive coordinator, assisted by Gary Campbell and Tyrone Johnson. Jason Stolpe will be the defensive coordinator, assisted by Tyrone Johnson and Shawn Kunesmiller. Jeff Winn will had our J.V. program and Art Bustamante will be the head freshman coach.

Q: What is your vision for the football program?

A: I'm not going to say that I've got a 5 or 10 year plan that will culminate in a section title. I don't feel we have the luxury of waiting too long to be successful. I expect to see improvement quickly. Given our strength of schedule, I can't give you a golden win-loss idea. But I can tell you that, while the process will be incremental, we expect to put a quality program together ASAP. This community clamors for and deserves a quality football program. We are doing everything within our power to deliver one.

Q: In closing, is there anything you would like to share with our readers?

A: Yes, I'd like to mention that my wife and I are West Sacramento residents. My wife LuAnn is a former tennis player and RCHS graduate, and I have been with the Washington Unified School District for eight years now. This is our home and we're here for the long haul.

RC football opens with two scrimmages

By Olivia De Mars

The River City High School varsity football team opened their season with a scrimmage last week against Golden Sierra, Woodcreek and Granite Bay high schools.

River City scored two times in 15 minutes against Golden Sierra and sacked their quarterback on the opening play for a seven-yard loss. The Raiders defense also stopped the Grizzlies on their first three possessions, including an interception by Aaron Turner. Their fifth possession also resulted in an interception, this time by Jason De Mars.

"If this had been a real game," said RCHS head coach Brian Watkins, "we would have beaten them. We played exceptionally well overall defensively, but we still need to improve in the areas of pass coverage and individual tackling."

In their final scrimmage against Woodcreek High School the Raiders consistently moved the ball down the field. River City scored twice, once on a quarterback keeper by Tony Molina and the other on a pitch by Sean Brown.

"We did well offensively," said RCHS coach Chris Baker. "We never had to punt because we were able to make first downs every time."

Sports Insider

By Richard Novoa

Major League Baseball

The Oakland A's winning streak ended at 20 games, but it was fun to watch while it lasted.

The A's (91-52) had better forget about the winning streak record and start concentrating on the final weeks of the season. The Anaheim Angels (88-59) are quietly hanging around in second place, only a couple of games back of the division leader. The Mariners are struggling right now, but with the Angels in Disneyland this week. The Angels have quietly won ten games in a row, before losing 2-1 to the A's on Monday night.

The Giants (82-61) picked a fine time to put together a winning streak of their own, winning 15 of their last 20 ballgames. The Giants beat the division-leading Diamondbacks three out of four games last weekend -- which is great news considering the G-men will be hosting the Dodgers (82-61) this week at Pac Bell Park.

The Giants won the first game of the series on Monday night 6-5 as Mr. Bonds crushed the 610th home run of his career.

The Giants and Dodgers are now tied for the wild card spot and trail the Diamondbacks by only five games. The G-men will host Los Angeles for two more games before they head south to play three in San Diego and a crucial four-game series in Los Angeles beginning Sept. 16.

NFL Action

The 49ers looked a little rough in their 16-13 win on Thursday night in New York, but a win is a win!

The 49ers were in the red zone all night long, but only managed to score 16 points. The 49ers now have an extra three days to prepare for their Week Two home opener against the Denver Broncos (1:15 p.m., Ch. 13).

The Raiders, on the other hand, pounded the hapless Seattle Seahawks 31-17 to open the season on a fine note. The Raiders used a balanced attack led by Rich Gannon, who completed 13 of 20 passes for 155 yards and two touchdowns. The defense dominated the Seahawks offense, holding Seattle to only 186 net yards. Next up for the silver & black is a trip to Pittsburgh on Sunday (5:30 p.m. - ESPN). Don't worry, Raider fans. The game is not a black out!

My football picks in Week One were not too bad, with two wins, one tie and a loss. This week, I like the Falcons (-3) over the Bears, and the 49ers (-3 1/2) at home against Denver. My college pick is Nebraska (-6) over Penn State, and on Monday night, the Redskins (+2 1/2) will give the Eagles their second loss of the year.

See ya next week!

'Ted & Lee' to appear at SouthPort Church

The theater of Ted (Swartz) & Lee (Eshleman) could be described as an inventive cross between, say, the Smothers Brothers, Andy Griffith and Monty Python. Their work is by turns hilarious, breath-taking, absurd and surprising, but always with a kind of friendly, back-porch draw.

Humor with art and soul.

The TED & LEE touch is unique. So is their choice of topics. In fact, must of Ted & Lee's repertoire is based on -- of all things -- the Bible. This, perhaps, shouldn't be surprising coming from two life-long Mennonites, one of whom is a seminary graduate (Ted). The Bible has been a part of their lives always, and artists draw from what they know.

The duo's trademark touch -- to celebrate the text by unearthing both laughter and insight -- gives audience members a new lease on stories they thought they knew. In fact, their approach is so fresh that TED & LEE are favorite performers at such events as Youth Specialties National Youth Worker's conferences, the Alive festival, the Winterfest events, Salvation Army gatherings, denominational conferences and many other venues.

It's important to note, too, that the form of Ted & Lee's material is also distinctive. It is not stand-up, but theater. Scenes with characters, place, situations. For a surprising number of audience members, Ted & Lee is the first live theater they have seen. A Ted & Lee show is an event in a community.

Ted & Lee will make a special appearance at SouthPort Community Church on Sunday, September 15 at the 10:30 a.m. service. SouthPort Church is located on 2568 Industrial Blvd. in West Sacramento. For more information, call the church offices at (916) 372-7818, or log onto their website at www.SouthPortCommunity.com.

News-Ledger Editorial

Bits & pieces

The West Sacramento city council tonight will essentially admit that the city goofed when it enacted a $250 contribution limit to local ballot measure campaigns. Tonight's recommendation to reverse the contribution limit comes quickly on the heels of a request from a citizen who is interested in putting more money into a ballot measure campaign.

Meanwhile, city hall isn't budging on a somewhat similar complaint regarding limits on contributing to one's own campaign for local office. It won't move on this one, despite a spirited protest from a city council challenger.

So the two issues have drawn different responses from the city manager's office and its attorney. They may be justified -- but it's time to watch closely.

For city hall, emotions about certain ballot measure campaigns or certain council candidates can play no role in deciding which contribution limits to leave in place and which to take away -- most especially, not in the middle of an election campaign.

Having the restrictions in place for the city council race will tend to help some candidates more than others, just as lifting them on the ballot measure fight will help some ballot campaigns more than others. It's important that the political leanings of city hall play no part in deciding which campaign laws to change and which to leave the same.

City hall's job is to ensure that the entire campaign reform law is made just and legal, and for that question, the buck stops with the city council.

Remodeling has been good to the Safeway Center on West Capitol Avenue. Check it out next time you need a quart of milk or a loaf of bread.

The face-lift, though, serves to draw more attention to the center's derelict "whirlybird" supermarket sign that has drawn complaints for more than a decade. The thing shows plenty of signs of decay, but no sign of coming down.

Pray for lightning.

One of the under-appreciated events in West Sacramento is the annual Riverbank Music Festival, which consistently draws high-quality music to the city's River Walk Park.

This year's festival (see back page) is scheduled for Sept. 22, and features regional bluesman Jackie Green and News-Ledger favorite Dave Alvin. Where else can you get that kind of quality, in a nice picnic-like setting, for only $5?

Letters to the Editor

In support of Goddard

This letter is to support the candidacy of Kimber Goddard for the West Sacramento City Council. It is my belief that he will better represent the members of this city and be much more responsive to citizens who come before the council with matters of interest to our community.

It is also my sincere belief that a man of his proven ability and integrity will prove to be a distinct asset to the governance of the city council on matters relating to taxpayers who are facing many challenges in the immediate near future, for example, our city streets and roads which have been so neglected.

With our rapid increase in population, we need someone of Kimber's foresight to help us with some long-range city plans, instead of the seeming inability of past councils to do anything except take minor steps to cope with contingency matters as they appear, with little or no thoughts of future developments.

Don't be shy and afraid

I liked last week's words of wisdom in Daryl Fisher's column, especially the last line, "Do one thing every day that scares you." Just make sure it's not wrong.

I think one of the biggest challenges many of us (especially our youth) face is that of shyness. And one of the best ways to overcome shyness while still in school would seem to be that of enrolling in classes like dramatic arts or public speaking. (The latter worked well for me over 40 years ago as I went back to school at a JC and simply pretended I was no longer shy by constantly playing the devil's advocate.)

Later, I reduced life's frustrations by developing a sense of humor, often laughing at myself. Since this made others happy, it had a like effect on me.

So once we do something each day that scares us, it seems like we'll exhaust that category of things to do very quickly. I would rather encourage others to "Do something good every day and take on the challenge of doing something different when the opportunity presents itself." If a given potential feat scares us too much, we should back off and exercise caution. Develop gradually and build confidence. Fewer things will then scare us.

In favor of Cabaldon and Johannessen

Well, here we go again, finding the right person who is going to fill the seat left vacant by Mr. Cahill. I'm very sorry that Mr. Cahill is not running, even though I disagreed with him many times. He is a good and honest man. Too bad he got mixed up with these QUAD guys. It's clear they were only using him.

I am not going to support Kimber Goddard, having seen what he has done already. He has gone about things in the wrong way. He has tried to make our city leaders look like a bunch of dummies. He thinks he is the smartest guy in West Sacramento.

Now about this lady Carolyn Castillo Pierson, who is also on the ballot. She is a government administrator, but that doesn't tell me anything. What department does she head up? She says she has deep roots here, but there are hundreds of new residents moving in and I'm sure they bring with them wisdom and intelligence and will make good leaders, too.

Christopher Cabaldon has done such a good job that the dumb things he's done are forgivable. I would follow him any place. We gave him an extra year as mayor and no one regretted it. He helped bring us our ballpark and has been a great leader.

I like Mark Johannessen. He is young, full of life, honest and hard working. He is new to our city, but has done his homework. He is an attorney and C.P.A. and has the sweetest little girl.

Please take a good hard look at this young man. He is going to fit in just right in our city hall and is made for the job.

BILL RESENDEZ

In support of Goddard

If you are one of those residents of the City of West Sacramento who has been around since its formation, you have probably been wondering when it is going to be run like a city. A city whose concern and focus should be to meet the needs of those who live here and not necessarily those of outside interests. How this is best done will be an arduous and laborious task, seeing where we are today.

I believe, however, we have just such a man who is credentialed to do this. Those credentials bring honesty, integrity and a genuine interest in those who make their homes in West Sacramento. A man with a vision of a better city, a "premier city" that will serve to meet the needs of its residents. His name is Kimber Goddard, whom I have known for many, many years. Let's get our city on track as it should be by casting your vote in the upcoming November election for city council candidate Kimber Goddard. I have the (NAPS)—If you own a pickup truck and want to protect its appearance from the wear and tear all trucks receive, you may be in the market for a bedliner. This product protects the truck "box" from dents, scratches, corrosive materials and other elements that undermine durability. Premium-quality drop-in liners such as the new Pendaliner Skid Resistor, are said to be far less expensive than most spray-on liners. They also come with nationwide warranties and include built-in features such as tailgate cup holders and slots for load-securing boards. For more information on how to select the best bedliner for any light truck, visit www.bedlinerfacts.com.

One of the most flexible, long-term care policy options to choose from is the Family-Care Benefit from John Hancock. It lets families purchase a single policy with one pool of benefits that can be used by whichever family member may need it. For example, adult children could buy a policy and include their parents. The parents would then be covered, should the need for long-term care arise. For more information, visit www.johnhancock.com.

DINING, TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Touring with Teddi

by Teddi Boylan

If you've never been to Grand Central Station, you're missing a great meal.

No, you don't have to go to New York City to appreciate the "Station." You can find it right here in West Sacramento at 1250 Harbor Boulevard. Owner Mike Granite was born and raised in upper New York state, and has brought his Yankee know-how to us.

His menu is very extensive. Cold submarine sandwiches come in six-, nine- and 12-inch sizes, and range in price from $2.99 to $5.59. Italian subs in the same sizes run $3.29 to $6.89. Chicken wings (Buffalo, NY style) come with a variety of sauces: medium, hot, inferno, nuclear, insane or "hot sweet."

Mike's hot subs for the most part have East Coast names such as "Jersey Turnpike Special" (steak and pastrami) or the "Bronx Bomber" (prime rib in BBQ sauce). All told, there are 16 different combos.

If you choice is burgers, sausage or chicken, you have choose from. There's even a fish 'n chip plate with two beer-battered cod fillets, French fries, and your choice of potato salad, macaroni salad, cole slaw, soft drink or draft beer for only $4.79.

Lots of side orders, as well as beverage choices, including beer and wine, round out the very extensive menu.

GRAND CENTRAL STATION: 1250 Harbor Blvd., West Sacramento. (916) 375-1047. Mon.-Thurs. 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; Friday 8-8; Sat. 10-3; and closed Sundays.

I should call this a retraction, but I won't. I'd rather call it a correction.

I received a phone call from Richard Lanier of Shasta Lake City last week. He informed me that an article I had written some time ago about the Chart Room Restaurant was erroneous. It seems the Chart Room was owned by Michael Chastine, and not by the two ladies I had credited with owning it.

It seems the two ladies owned the River Galley, another floating restaurant eat- of these sunk.

The fact remains that once upon a time, the Marina Inn, the Chart Room and the River Galley were all on the West Sacramento side of the river, and then there were none!

Could it be politics between the two cities that prevents the development on this side of the river? I certainly do not call the River Walk a "development."

"Steppin' Out With Moe" is off and running again. This time will be Oct. 10 to the Nugget in Sparks, Nevada. If you haven't been there, you're missing the lovely Victorian Square and one of the best casinos in the north. Cost for the trip is $20, and must be paid ten days before the trilp. You get back $10 cash and a $3 food coupon.

Pickup is at Rite Aid at 8 a.m., and you're home by 4 p.m.

Moe gives a great trip, so if you can't make this one, you can go to the El Dorado in Reno on Nov. 14. Give Moe a call at 373-0065 for more information and to make your reservation.

It pays to be a steady customer at Nick's Diner.

Rachel Berciles (Nick's wife) heard that a friend of mine was planning dinner for the seniors living in our mobile home park, so she donated enough peach cobbler for 40 people. It was truly delicious. This is a lady with a big heart and a compassionate nature.

My friends Maryanne and Sheryl dropped in to Nick's Diner Saturday for a bit of lunch. there was what appeared to be a homeless man outside by the diner's entrance. One of the waitresses realized he was hungry, so she asked Rachel if she could feed him. The man was treated to a meal.

On this anniversary of one of the most horrendous events in America's life, how great it is that this restaurant owner, Rachel Berciles, showed such compassion and love for an unknown fellow human being.

God bless all the wonderful people at Nick's Diner.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered five feet six inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This is an extraordinary record for this time of the year, seldom or never before seen in this section of the state. It is reported that the snow level at the summit is less than thirty-seven inches, where formerly anything under 100 inches was considered a light fall of snow. N. R. Taylor, meteorologist, says an unusual condition exists in the Sacramento River during this winter.

"For the first time in the history of the weather bureau," said Taylor, "the movement of the tide in the Sacramento River has been visible to the naked eye every month of the winter. Although a tide has always been perceptible when the river was measured with instruments, this is the first time it has been noticeable to the naked eye for every month during an entire winter. The cause of this phenomenon is the unusually low condition of the river at a time of the year when it should be high."

As already forecast by the weather bureau all the rivers in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys will maintain an unusually small flow during the summer months.

Last Tuesday at the home of Miss Ruth Maxwell in West Sacramento a wedding took place which united her in marriage with Willard McClelland of Sacramento. The ceremony was performed at 6 p. m., after which a reception was held at the home of the bride. The young couple left on the evening train for their honeymoon in San Francisco and other bay points.

Only a few intimate friends of the family were present at the ceremony.

An automobile was upset on Fifth street near Ann last Tuesday resulting in the damaging of the car and slight injury to the owner. The car was righted and went off under the control of the owner on its way west out of town.

On complaint of Pio Piorines of West Sacramento, Theodore Rockwood and Joe Hall were arrested by Constable Buckingham last Tuesday on a charge of burglary. It seems that these men had been seen in the neighborhood of the Piorines property and that soon thereafter some articles were missing, occasioning the complaint. against the men. They were represented by Attorney James F. Gaffney of Sacramento when they made their appearance last Wednesday before Judge Barry.

Last Friday John Barbosa Silva, a colored gentleman of Sacramento, was fined $25 by Judge Barry on pleading guilty to petty larceny for stealing two turkeys from John Azevedo last December 24th. Azevedo testified that Silva had been seen with the turkeys and witnesses were called to show that he had taken two to Sacramento when a Northern Electric train was stopped by him at Vin Station.

Last Monday Joe Carillo was fined $25 on a charge of battery, inflicted on Annie Brush, who swore to the complaint. The assault took place in a scow on the river near the M street bridge, and on being arrested Carillo got out on bonds of $50 after having spent a ight in the local jail. Carillo paid his fine and Annie was ordered by the judge to get out of town as soon as possible.

Sheriff J. W. Monroe was a visitor in Washington yesterday summoning witnesses and jurors for the trial of David Buchfinck, which will come up in Judge Harrison's court in Woodland today.

Buchfinck is the man accused of stabbing Settino Lorenzini about a month ago at the latter's home on Mary street. Settino has entirely recovered from the effects of the wound inflicted on him at the time of the assault and will be present at the trial tomorrow.

The ladies of Washington have been attending the cooking demonstration held in the post office during the past week in goodly numbers. Every day a large crowd of housewives who contemplate installing gas cooking apparatus in their homes have been attending the cooking demonstrations given by Miss Emmiline Rich. Yesterday was the last day these demonstration will be given, and installations of meters and gas stoves goes on steadfastly in the homes of the town.

A large crowd of enthusiastic supporters attended the dance given by the volunteer firemen of Washington in the town hall last Saturday night. The firemen expressed complete satisfaction at the attendance and at the manner in which the dance was conducted and they took particular pains in seeing that the entertainment was a social as well as a financial success. An orchestra of six pieces played for the dance.

Jack Reuther has had his lot filled at the corner of Third and Elizabeth streets in preparation for building a home and shop on the property. A large oak tree was cut down to accommodate the design of building selected by Reuther, and many people in the neighborhood were sorry to see this splendid shade being lost to the neighborhood. Reuther promises to plant young shade trees around the location as soon as his building is completed.

Ralph Shaw and wife have just returned from their honeymoon spent in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other southern points. Temporarily they are living in Sacramento, but anticipate building a home at this side of the river.

Joe Beltrami left here Wednesday morning for several days' visit in San Francisco and other bay points for the transaction of business. In the meantime the Hotel Weed continues in its usual tranquil condition under the control of Mrs. Beltrami.

Fred Hart, who has been spending the past week in the vicinity of Meridian on a business and pleasure trip, returned to his home in Washington.

P. A. Hart, a resident of Washington, is spending a short while in Colusa on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bartle, who have resided in Washington for some time, left for Sparks, Nevada, where they expect to make their future home.

Blair Manchester has returned from San Francisco, where he spent the week-end on a pleasure trip.

Mrs. William Edenson is spending a few days at Rio Vista with friends and relatives.

The following Washington residents were entertained last Monday at the home of Jack Cussack at a dinner: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Miss Virginia Carpenter, Miss Florence Fay, Miss Vivian Carpenter, Erland Manchester, Frank Carpenter, Charles Fay and Charles Carpenter.

Mrs. Fred White, Jr., who has been spending the past week visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Jasper of Wheatland, returned to her Washington home. Mr. and Mrs. Jasper came down to spend the week-end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cameron.

Mrs. William Hughes is in Berkeley, where she attended the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. Thomas Eddy and son, residents of Grass Valley, are spending a few days here visiting with friends and relatives.

Herman Garber, Jr., left for Rio Vista, where he expects to remain for a short while on business.

W. A. Duncan, a resident of Cottonwood, was a recent visitor at the home of his niece, Mrs. Jack Allerton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Daniels and son, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank De Riso, Jr., left for their home today in Medford, Oregon.

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD REGISTER NOW, DELAY IS DANGEROUS

Important elections are coming along this year, so important that any man or woman who has an interest in the welfare of the country and his own welfare should take immediate steps to register so that when the time comes for voting, they may not regret their negligence.

An election at the end of March will return a school trustee in Washington.

An election on the first Monday in April will return a fire commissioner.

An election on May 6th will return presidential delegates to the national conventions. And subsequently there will be other elections that are vitally important to every voter and taxpayer of Yolo county.

Any man or woman blessed with the privilege of casting a ballot at any and all of these elections should deem it a privilege but unless they register now they may be prevented from expressing an opinion on who is to be next president of the United States or whether the people want prohibition for the United States or whether the constitution might be amended to curtail more liberties of the people.

Surely these things are important enough for every citizen to register and vote when the proper time arrives.

Constable Buckingham is ready at most any time to receive registrations in this district.

CLAIMS ALLOWED BY YOLO SUPERVISORS

The following claims against Yolo County were approved, and allowed and ordered paid at the meeting of the supervisors held in Woodland, February 19th.

Road district No. 1—Coast Rock & Gravel Co., crushed rock, $310.28 Gordon, W. P., roadwork, $20 Union Oil Co., gasoline, $175.44.

BUCKINGHAM LOCATES MISSING SACRAMENTO GIRL

Constable Henry Buckingham of Washington, found the two young who were reported missing from Del Paso district in Sacramento on Tuesday. The girls were found entering the city of Sacramento from the Washington side and when questioned they stated that they were out for a jaunt, but they were held at the Sacramento city jail pending receipt of word from their parents.

SOFT DRINK LICENSES GRANTED

The supervisors of Yolo county at a meeting last Monday, March 3rd granted soft drink licenses to Lola D. Hart and to J. P. Johnson of this district.

The Hart place is located along the state highway in West Sacramento and Johnson will conduct the soft drink emporium at the service station of Frazer and Doyle on Fifth street.

ELECTION FOR FIRE COMMISSIONERS MONDAY APRIL 7TH

On the first Monday of April in each year fire commissioners are elected in special districts like that of Washington. Monday April 7th will therefore, be the next election day for the return of commissioners to handle the affairs of the fire district of Washington.

Those now holding office are Dave Barry, Ray Peak and William Bartle.

Bartle has just been moved to Sparks, Nev. by the Southern Pacific company, where he expects to be retained for at least a year and perhaps longer. It will therefore be necessary to return another man to fill his place as fire commissioner of the town.

Barry will likely be a candidate to succeed himself again, but Peek has not yet made any announcement whether he desires to fill the place or to permit some other taxpayer to take his place.

The efficient manner in which the affairs of the fire commissioners have been handled during the past year leaves the condition of the Volunteer Fire Department in good shape.

CLARKSBURG DISTRICT ASKS BETTER ROAD OUTLETS

At the meeting of the board of supervisors of Yolo county held in Woodland last Monday a large delegation of Clarksburg citizens appeared before the board asking better roads for their district so that the great output of crops might be more easily conveyed to the markets in Sacramento.

The delegation was very well received by the board of supervisors but explanation was made that at this time the funds in the county treasury would not permit of immediate work on any of the roads of the district.

Supervisors promised however that following the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1st immediate steps would be taken to relieve the situation explained by residents of the Netherlands district.

It was explained to those taxpayers that the road on the levee between Freeport and Clarksburg, a distance of three miles would be paved during the coming summer and that later on the road extending from Riverview to Freeport would be finished like the paved road extending from West Sacramento to Riverview.

Supervisor Leinberger draws attention to the fact that within the last four years his district has been greatly favored by the Yolo board of supervisors in a matter of road appropriations. In that period not less than $400,000 has been spent on the roads in the first district. Most of this money was taken out of the general tax levy although about $170,000 of it was taken out of the bond issue voted four years ago in the amount of $1,000,000.

Roads in this section of Yolo county have been hard to pave owing to the condition of the soil and the fact that most of those roads have to be constructed on built up levees or in reclamation districts where no road formerly existed. Expenditures for this class of road naturally cost higher than where a base formerly existed and where the surfacing was more or less hardened with travel.

The promise of the board to take immediate care of the taxpayers of Clarksburg was kindly received and the delegation left the court house feeling satisfied that they would get the necessary service as soon as possible.

YOLO MEN WILL HAVE SAY IN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Two Yolo County men in R. F. Schmeiser of Davis and Henry Brinck of Winters, were chosen as members of the directorate of the California Life Insurance Company of Sacramento, of which Marshall Diggs, former Woodlander, is head. Supervisor L. E. Hutchings of this city, one of the stockholders, was in attendance upon the meeting held on the twelfth floor of the new Life building at Tenth and J streets. The following directors were elected.

Marshall Diggs, Henry Brinck, D. I. Waltz, Henry Haile, C. S. Brooks, L. L. McCoy, F. W. Stall, J. R. Kruse, R. F. Schmeiser, A. E. Burge, R. T. McKisick, E. F. Dalton, F. M. Grimshaw, C. E. McLaughlin, G. C. Meckfessel, A. W. Graves and G. H. Menke.

QUARANTINE FOR HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE REMOVED HERE

The guards that had been placed on the Southern Pacific bridge and on the M Street bridge during the past ten days under the quarantine against hoof and mouth disease have been removed by the state authorities.

No guards had been placed on the bridges by Sacramento county hence stock owners are at liberty to convey their livestock to and from the Sacramento markets.

Warren D. Norton, Yolo farm advisor received the following telegram yesterday from J. J. Frey, veterinarian in charge of the foot and mouth control in Central California and stationed at Oakland, wherein a review of the complete situation is set forth:

Infected herds since last report—Solano one herd, seventy-three cattle. Contra Costa—six herds, two hundred thirty-two cattle, four hogs, eight goats, one sheep, making a total infected herds of sixty-four. Two thousand eight hundred seven cattle, five sheep, six thousand six hundred twenty-nine hogs, twenty-seven goats, total infected animals nine thousand four hundred sixty-eight. Slaughtered since last report eleven herds, total of one thousand five hundred thirty-one hogs, seven hundred sixty-six cattle, four goats, five sheep. Disinfection well under way. State department of agriculture and United States biological survey men have thrown out a line of defense one mile in front of quarantine line to present draft of predatory animals from infected areas.

G. H. Hecke, who has so ably directed the fight to halt the cattle plague, was in Woodland this morning. He reported that the largest single herd yet slaughtered in the war against the foot and mouth disease was killed yesterday, when the rifle squad destroyed 520 head of cattle at the McMahon ranch in San Pablo, Contra Costa county.

Most of the cattle were already known to be infected with the plague, and the destruction of the entire herd is believed to have removed a serious menace in that particular area.

Premises in Berkeley and Richmond where infected animals have been killed were thoroughly disinfected yesterday.

WOODLAND VOTERS SLOW IN REGISTERING

Woodland, March 6.—Voters apparently are waking up to the realization that the time is getting short for registering. Clerk Harry Saunders is doing a lively business.

It is impossible to state accurately how many in Yolo County have registered," said Saunders. "We have deputy registrars in nearly every district, and have had no reports from them."

A safe estimate would be that less than one-third of the total number of persons in Yolo county eligible to vote have registered thus far, according to those familiar with the situation.

Women's clubs are beginning to consider the matter and may bring about better results.

• On Sept. 15, 1963, a church bombing in an affluent black neighborhood in Birmingham, Ala., leaves four young black girls dead.

• On Sept. 9, 1971, prisoners riot and seize control of the maximum-security Attica Correctional Facility near Buffalo, N.Y. After negotiations stalled, state police and prison officers launched a disastrous raid on Sept. 13, in which 10 hostages and 29 inmates were killed in an indiscriminate hail of gunfire.

• On Sept. 12, 1974, in Boston, opposition to court-ordered school "busing" turns violent on the opening day of classes. School buses carrying black children were pelted with eggs, bricks and bottles, and police in combat gear fought to control angry white protesters besieging the schools.

• On Sept. 11, 2001, at 8:45 a.m., an American Airlines Boeing 767 loaded with 20,000 gallons of jet fuel crashes into the north tower of the World Trade Center in New York City. Then, 18 minutes after the first plane hit, United Airlines Flight 175 flew into the south tower. America was under attack. American Airlines Flight 77 then circled over downtown Washington and slammed into the Pentagon at 9:45 a.m.

utmost confidence in his ability and fully support and endorse him.
CECIL E. WILDER
West Sacramento

In support of Measure L
This letter is in support of Measure L on the November ballot. Our community needs more commercial development to support the needs of our citizens and our growing population.

For the past almost 50 years we have tried industrial growth, and where has it gotten us? When East Yolo had a sparse population, it was a dumping ground for all kinds of heavy and other industrial uses. Now with so many schools and a heavy bedroom community, heavy industry is a burden that we can't afford any longer.

We need some clean, employment-fulfilling commercial uses that will give our local young people meaningful work, such as assembly and light manufacturing, along with a heavy emphasis on much needed retail outlets, like clothing and shoes, etc.

That's why I ask everyone to support Measure L in November.
ERNIE APPLEWHITE
